

GIVING THANKS

Thanksgiving dinner is a time to be grateful for family and friends

My cousins are coming from Chicago, so everyone will attend

I am lucky to have a great family with aunts and uncles too

I'm really excited and waiting to see the menu

I'm hoping for some turkey with dark and white meat

So everyone can enjoy and have enough to eat

I love when I see mashed potatoes with lots of gravy on top

The food keeps on coming and never seems to stop

I am happy the Pilgrims settled here

So that we can celebrate Thanksgiving every year

I know it is time to go when they serve the apple pie

But I also know it means I soon have to say good bye
