I'm thanful for . . .

Many people tend to waste and take many things for granted, But as for me I don't. Most importantly I'm very greateful and thankful for many things that I have, Like my family, food and my house.

I'm Thankful for my family because my family supports me in everything that I do. My family encourage me to my best in school and maintain an Excellent average, They are also there to put a smile on my face when I feel sad or down. I appreciate my family and all that they do, because I know some children may not have a family or a supportive family as mine.

I'm Thankful for food. Now, I love food! Food is my best friend. I enjoy many different type of food, from Chinese, to Haitian and Jamaican food. I try my best to not waste food, I've seen many homeless people on the streets begging on T.V. many commercials showing hungry children. Everyday I have Breakfast, Lunch, and Dinner. I am very "THANKFUL"! I can't imagine not eating or even not knowing when or where my next meal is coming from.

My house is such a wonderful place to be, It's So Cozy and I have Somany memories in it. I'm So thankful for my house that protect's me from the out side weather and in a place where I get to lay my body down to rest. Some people don't have a home, Some are living in a Shelter. Some are living outside in a cardborad box.

In Conclusion I'm greatful, Thankful, and very much happy with all the good thing's I have.
