Jalen Labady November 11, 2015

Thankful

Thankful means feeling or expressing graditude. I am thankful for many things. One thing I am thankful for is that I have parents and relatives that care for me, love me, and adore me. I am also thankful that I have friends that hangout with me, share good times and bad times, and help me out. I am also thankful that I have clothes on my back and food in my stomach. I am also thankful that my mom and dad sent me to school to learn and be educated. I am also thankful that I have an artistic gift and even though I do I can still do great with other subjects such as ELA, Language Arts, Science, Math, etc. I am also thankful that I am not a troublemaker, a fourth grade rat, or a bossy kid. I'd prefer be a generous, fair angel. I don't want to be a backtalking, sassy suser like most kids. I am also thankful that as my grades and behavior improves, my future is looking bright. I am also thankful that I have a home to sleep in because some people have to sleep on moldy, crusty rocks, and be outside where it's dark and cold.