Joseph Christian November 10, 2015

On the last thursday of November we celebrate a holiday called Thanks giving. On that day we eat a big meal and talk about the things we are thankful for. Some of the things I am thankful for are my family, food and shelter.

I am thankful for my family because even when they do not have money they try and get me what I want. Sure me and my family have problems but we work it out. Also when I come home and my family tries to cheer me up.

I am grateful for food because my stomach hurts when I am hungry. And if I don't eat eventually I will die. Thats why we he enough food to last us a whole month.

I am grateful for shelter because without shelter I wouldn't be warm in the winter or cool in the summer. I can't sleep outside be-cause it can be very dangerous.

Without family, food and shelter I would not enjoy my life and I would be sick. So that's why I very grate ful that I have these three things.
