

I am Rebecca Burkhardt and I'm thankful for a wonderful life. For starters, I have such a loving, caring family. They always take me on vacation to Disney World and sometimes they surprise me. Like one time I was at school and got called down to the office because we were going to Disney. They comfort me when I'm feeling sad. I remember crying when I was four and my mom comforted me by singing a song. And they believe in me and support me whatever I do...and trust me, I do a lot.

The second thing I'm thankful for is my house. Sure it might not be the biggest or prettiest, but it's a house and a place for me to live. I have a room of my own and no leaks or infestations. Best of all, it's blue (my favorite color)!!

I am also very thankful for such great clothes. They're not ripped or torn and I have SOOOO many of them! They're also pretty colors and have funny sayings on them. When I think of people living with nothing to eat, nowhere to go, and nothing to wear, I remember what a wonderful life I have.
