

I am thankful for my family because we are united together.

My family is a ton of soldiers in training.

Dad is the drill sergeant who gives us the knowledge of what to do.

Mom is the demonstrator who shows us how to do it.

Joe is the juggernaut, super strong and never gives up.

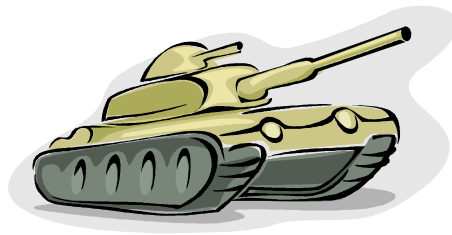

Sneakers is the bomb sniffing dog who will run away if it explodes.

Jenna is the private who doesn't know what to do at first.

Blackberry and Flickr are the mice chasing cats that defend the trenches against rats.

As for me, James, I am the stealthy sniper who stays quiet and whatever I try, I get it on my first shot.

I thank god for giving me a wonderful family which will never break apart and instead, we stick like glue.
