Thanksgiving is a holiday that commerates a harvest festival celebrated by the pilgrims. It is held on the fourth thursday of November in U.S.A. On this day we give thanks for everything we have in our lives. Their are countless things that I am thankful for. From families to books, we have many things that we don't think thankfully enough.

One common possession that I am always thankful for is my family and friends. My family helps me reach my goal, guide me to the straight path, and give me full protection. My friends stand by my side, encourage and inspire me, and never let me lose hope. Moreover, another thing I give thanks for is the ability to acquire education. Education can make me strive to a satisfying future. Billions of children in the world don't have this special ability which makes me lucky and thankful for this ability. Surprisingly, another thing I am grateful and thankful for are books. Without books, I wouldn't know many interesting facts about the world around me. I won't even have a life that is exciting and adventerous. I bet books were the reason that helped me succeed into National Junior Honor Society!

These are just a few things that I am thankful for. Not only is Thanksgiving the only day of thanks. Everyday is a day of being thankful of what you were given to succeed throughout life.
