My Mother

How many things would still be lost
If she hadn't found it
That one blue star sock or my shirt
With all the permanent maker
Writing on it

How many things would still confuse me
If she wasn't there to teach me
Would I be the same
Person I am right now?
Able to tell right from wrong

She is the one who gave me
Love and life
The one that is the most
Beloved my mother
To behold

I am thankful for my mom
And all that she has Done for me
I fear that without her
I Would not be the same
