Thanksgiving

I am thankful for many things. The thing that I am almost most thankful for is my parents and my siblings- older and smaller. I am thankful for my dad because he supports my education. My dad does anything that helps me out with my education. My mom well she is my friend, my best friend. My mom cooks, she buys my clothes and many more, and I will do anything for her.

My siblings are really caring, responsible, and respectful. My brother he can sometimes be annoying but is always their when I need him, and I cant be more thankful for him. My sister she's over the top kind, and caring she will do anything I want and will help me out with anything I need.

In conclusion, the thing that I am most thankful for is my family. I love them and they will always love me in return.
