

I am thankful for the soldiers fighting for everyone in Afghanistan. It is sad thinking about all of the soldiers that die everyday. I hope that someday the soldiers can come home. They are fighting with their lives for our freedom. After the war, I hope the soldiers can come home.

I am also thankful for my sisters. My sisters make me smile in the morning. When you want to play any game they are always there for me. Also, my sisters are there when nobody is there. I love my sisters!!
