The "Bomb"

My Mom is "The Bomb." I'm thankful for her because when something is wrong she will help me through it. For example, I cried when my father left me because they were arguing. She sat down and talked me through why they split up. Then they worked everything out and now they're together and I am the luckiest kid in the world to have my parents together.

I am thankful to have my parents together so they can both love and care for me equally. Then, if they didn't, it would not be cool to go to my dad's on the weekends and to my mom's on the weekdays for school! If they split up it would be like pulling rocks out of my teeth, so I'm glad I have parents that love and care for me at the same time

It means a lot to me that my parents are together and especially that I have my mom by my side to help me when ever rough times happen. I hope it never happens again though. I am so thankful for my family!
