WHAT I AM THANKFUL FOR

I am thankful for my family and my pet. My mom helps me with my homework and does all the household chores (laundry, making dinner, etc). My dad works at SUNY Orange College and earns money for us. Mom works at Kohl's, but dad works Monday-Friday so he earns most of our money. My brother is just goofy. We like to play games like Star Wars, riding our bikes, building our Legos, playing with our matchbox cars, and just being silly. We have a lot of fun together. My cat is the only cat I know that does not like to be picked up. But still, she is funny and she LOVES my toy wrestling ring. She chews on it like, a million times a day. I cannot tell you how many times a day I have to tell her to stop chewing on that thing. My family and I go on a lot of fun trips together. I am lucky because I have the best family in the world.

I am also thankful for my toys. Mom says I have too many of them and I need to get rid of some. But I want to keep all of them. I play with my toys with my brother. Sometimes, when I am in my brother's room I like to mess around with HIS toys. I have a TON of Legos. I might need another shelf for them! I like building the Legos and then playing with them. I also like to play with my wrestlers, my matchbox cars, and my Nerf guns (Nerf guns are dart guns, not real guns).

I am thankful for my house and the food that my family has. Food fills me up when I am hungry. I am very picky about food. My favorite foods are pizza, bread sticks, pasta, macaroni and cheese, and mozzarella sticks. I like food because there are so many foods to choose from and so many different tastes. Even though prices go up, my mom still buys most of the food I like. So, thank you mom. I am thankful for the roof above my head, the nicely painted walls, and the big glass window. My house is what keeps me safe during blizzards. My house is what kept me safe during hurricane Irene. My house must be pretty big if it can hold me, my mom, my dad, my brother, all my toys and games, my cat, all my brothers toys, my television, our HUGE couch, our dining set, and all our beds.

Out of all those things I am thankful for, I am most thankful for my family. I am a very lucky and thankful person.
