

Is there someone or something in your life that you really care about? That's how I feel about JP and the Youth Center. JP helps me when I need it. The Youth Center is a place where I can hang out with friends. JP and the Youth Center are really important to me.

JP is my mom's boyfriend, but he feels like a dad to me. I have known JP for three years now. We do outside work, like mowing the lawn and last year we painted the house. Sometimes JP will play a game with me, when we do we either play Just Dance or Star Wars. JP is like a counselor because when I feel down I talk to him and I feel better. JP may be my mom's boyfriend but he sure feels like a dad to me.

I've known about the Youth Center for about a month now I'm thankful for it. I love it because I can hang out with my friends for free! One time we all went to a Halloween party there that was the best. They have a pool table too, the first time I went there my friend taught me how to play and I've gotten better. They even have computers you can use for free. Me and my friends go on the computers when the pool table is in use. I'm thankful for the Youth Center because when I'm bored this is the place I'll go to.

There's a lot of things I'm thankful, but I'm really thankful for JP and the Youth Center. I think it's great to have someone to talk to when you need to, and have a place to go to when you have nothing else to do, and hangout with your friends.
