

Are you thankful for family and friends? Or maybe a subject in school? Whatever it may be make sure to acknowledge it. When I think of thankful, I think of my brother and foreign language.

My brother is someone I love and I am thankful for him. I am thankful for him because he cheers me up when I am sad. When I am sad he gives me a hug and comforts me. I am also thankful because, he plays with me when I am bored. He will jump on the trampoline with me. Finally, I am thankful that he spends time with me, especially when I am lonely. Because my brother is caring, loving, and a good friend I am thankful.

Foreign language is fun and I am thankful that we have a chance to learn it in school. I am thankful foreign language because it is fun. For example we get to color our projects with markers and colored pencils. Also, it gives us a chance to learn a new language. We have weekly exams that help us memorize all of the phrases. Finally, I am thankful because foreign language is easier than I thought it would be. For example we get packets that are fun and help us learn it easier. Foreign language helps me learn about a different country and speak that language, therefore I am thankful.

It is good to be thankful. If you're not, life can be harder on you and other people. I am thankful for foreign language and my brother because they are both special to me in some way.

Abby Emmings
November 18, 2011

ELA
Ms. Miller