I feel that I'm gifted for have a mom. Also, lucky for having education. I feel like this because they're important to me. You should feel the same.

I am gifted for having my mom because she's there for me. Like that time I cut my hand open my mom was there to help. She also keeps me out of trouble. Like that time she helped me do my homework so the teacher didn't yell at me. Also she makes sure I'm doing the right assignment. Like the time she called the school to make sure I had the right homework sheet. That's why I'm gifted to have a mom.

I am lucky to have education because it makes me smarter. Like about 2 weeks ago I was not as smart as I am now. Also it can give me a healthy and good life as I get older. Like when my mom said "Education gave her the life we have now." it can also get you a good job when your older. That's why I am lucky to have education.

That's why I am gifted to have a mom. Also, I think that's why I'm lucky to have education. I hope I made you feel the way I feel.
