What are you thankful for this year?

In this essay you will read about what im thankful for this year and the reason's why.

This year was supposed too very happy for my family, my mommy and daddy were going to get married and I found out that I was going to be a big brother again. And I was so happy about it, but some bad things happened to me and my family that changed over lives forever. I lost my 4-year-old brother and that made us all very sad, mommy and daddy didn't get married and me my brother and sister had to go live with ower god mommy. And this mad everyone very sad. But my mommy and daddy tells us all the time that they love us and that they are proud of me. And even when my mommy is sad she still loves me, she's still very proud of me and im very thankful for that, because a lot of kids don't have a mommy and daddy that love them or that say im proud of you and that I love you. And im lucky to have a mommy, daddy, brothers, and sisters that love me. And looks up me and I know that by me doing the right things that they are all proud of me. So im thankful for my mommy, daddy, brothers, sisters, my grandparents, aunts, uncles, and my god mother.

In this essay you have read what im thankful for and the reasons why I hope you enjoyed my essay thank you for giving me a chance.
