I have a lot to be thankful for. For Thanksgiving this year I am thankful for my family. In my family I have a sister, two brothers (one died), a mom, and dad, a sister in-law and nephew. I am thankful for them because they are all nice to me. My sister helps me with homework because she used to be a math teacher but now is a reading teacher. My mom gives me a roof over my head , and my dad buys food for me sometimes. A person once said "With a roof over your head, food at the table what's not to be thankful for." And I agree. I'm also thankful for my education. Without school we would all be dumb. That's why I'm thankful for our teachers, school, and study hall. Study hall is a class where you can get homework done, read a book, or get help with something. Lastly, I'm thankful for our teachers. Without teachers we wouldn't have school, and without school we would be dumb. Teachers are what keep the schools running. So this year I do have a lot to be thankful for and I am really happy I have all of this.
