

William Volkman-Lien

All human beings are thankful for at least one thing every year but I have three things that I am thankful for. The first thing I am thankful for is my family they help me when I feel down. They are there when I am in trouble; they help me when I need them. Second thing I am Thankful for are my friends. For my friends some of the things they do are or being that they are reliable. And they help me when I need their help, when I am depressed I am able to talk to them. Third thing I am thankful is Minnesota where I was born. I have tons of memories and experiences with Duluth, Minneapolis, and Saint Paul also Brooklyn Park. Also Minnesota is the place of water like the sky that is what the word Minnesota means. Family, friends and Minnesota are what I am grateful for and thankful for and will be forever.
