

What I'm thankful for this year is my family, my friends, and finally to know people care about me.

The reason why the first thing I'm thankful for is my family is because I love them. And I also know that they love me and they always will be on my side no matter what happens, and I mean that!

Another thing I'm thankful for are my friends because if your family can't help you, you can always count on your friends. Your friends are always your only and last choice in life.

And finally, the last thing I'm thankful for is knowing people care about me. When you know people care about you, you should always have faith that you're never alone in life...and when I say that I mean you're really never alone in life!

In conclusion, I am thankful for my family, my friends, and knowing people care about me. What are you thankful for?
