What am I Thankful For

I'm most thankful for my family because they are all so loving and caring in all aspects of life.

My dad is very funny, smart, caring protective and I love him. He makes sure we have a great day every day. He helps me study for my exams. We play our favorite game, UNO, and watch National Geographic shows. At night he tucks me in and reminds me to say my prayers.

My mom is an incredible person. She is the light, which brightens the path of our daily lives. She encourages me to be brave and have confidence in everything I do. My mom is very smart and helps me with my academics, teaches me to cook and takes me to interesting places.

My brother inspires me to score excellent on my exams. We always have fun playing together and annoy me sometimes but I love him. Although, we have many differences, I could not imagine life without my brother. He's a great friend and an awesome playmate.

Overall, I'm thankful that I have such a loving and caring family who teach me life lessons so when I grow up, I could pass on the same act of kindness and be a positive individual in our wonderful world.

I'm also thankful for our armed forces and our veterans who fought for our freedom and the ones who are currently protecting our country to keep us safe. Also, for all the tremendous hard work they perform in re-building communities in Afghanistan to help the families have a safe and better life. They risk their lives for us and I thank them for that I am thankful for my family because of who they are and what they do for me.

I love my family!
