Why I Am Thankful

I am lucky to have such a good life. Millions of people do not have homes. Here are a few reasons why I am thankful.

I am thankful because I am lucky I even have a home. I just live in a normal size apartment. I live in a small neighborhood too. But I know many people are homeless. Another reason why I am thankful is that I have food. Some people struggle to afford food every day. I feel bad for those people.

Mostly I am thankful for my family. They always help me with school and baseball. My mom always cheers me on. My dad is one of the coaches so he helps me with hitting and fielding. Last year, I was having trouble with division so my mom showed me a different way to do it and I got 100% on my test! Many kids don't have a loving family like mine. I am very blessed.
