Thanksgiving is a time of year to give thanks. Some of the things I give thanks for are freedom, shelter and family.

Freedom is the greatest thing that ever happened to me because without freedom, we would not be doing these things. Freedom is just the way the world works. We would be slaves if there wasn't freedom. We wouldn't be smiling without freedom. The freedom of life is one reason why we're alive. Without freedom I couldn't be happy today.

The shelter we are in provides food, family, clothes, and safety. Without shelter we would be homeless. There are people who are homeless today, but what I want to do is give those people homes. Treat everyone way you want to be treated.

My family is the best (in my opinion). A family who loves you and cares about you is special.

Thanksgiving is a time to give thanks. There are many people to whom I give thanks.
