

In my story I am thankful for the kindness of others because some people don't have that. Some people can be bullied everyday. I am also thankful for my health because some people are really sick like they might have cancer. I am also thankful for the money that I have because some people are living outside in the cold and they don't have the money to buy food or shelter.

When I went to California in San Francisco there was a lot of people who didn't have money that lived on the sidewalk. Some of them were sleeping with a ripped and dirty blanket and even one of them was counting how many pennies they had. Then once we went to this restaurant and outside there was this man behind a bush and whenever people walked by he would scare them. Then this lady at the restaurant said that he was a homeless guy and people give him money for scaring people and now he has made enough money to send his daughter to college. When I heard about this I thought it was a strange way to get money. Money isn't the only thing I'm thankful for. I am also thankful for the kindness of others a lot of people are teased and bullied. Once in first grade in the morning when I was going up the steps I saw these sixth graders and they were making fun of this girls shirt. The last thing that I'm thankful for is my health. Some people are really really sick that they could barely walk or talk. They even could be sick with cancer and that's what I'm thankful for.

By Erica Giannetti