What I Am Thankful for This Year

I am thankful for love. Without love, I would not be as joyful as I am now. I get a lot of love from my siblings and parents, because they care about me. I think that everyone should have love from someone because love is something you just cannot go out to the store and buy. Love comes naturally. Love is an important thing that everyone needs in this world and I have that.

Another thing I am thankful for is my family and friends. If I didn't have family and friends I would be very lonely. I wouldn't have the things I have now which cost lots of money. I wouldn't have a roof over my head. Family is fantastic people to hang out with when you are bored. My family has given me many things and that is another part of love because I know that they love me very much and I love them.

My friends are always there when I need them because that is what friends are for. We know when there is trouble, and we help each other. That is why I am thankful for them.

Another thing I am thankful for is making it to the fifth grade. This means I am also thankful for the teachers for helping and supporting me. They are the ones who helped me make it to the fifth grade because they taught what I needed to know to be able to pass the statewide tests. The teachers in the school are the reason why I am smart and in TAG.
