

What I'm Thankful for

I'm thankful for my family. They're always caring for me. My mom is always there for me, like when I broke my hand roller skating. She was pretty mad, but she took me to the hospital right away because she loves me. I love my dad because he has such a sweet personality and he always makes me laugh all the time. My dad is also as caring as my mom. I don't know how I would live without my sister. We get in tons of fights, but she's my companion and I love her. My sister, my friend, and I were at my house and we were running around in my basement. When running I turned around to see my sister chasing me with a bean bag chair. She pushed me down and sat on me with the bean bag chair. I screamed. I ran up to my mom and she said "What happened?" I told her what Sophie my sister did and we went to the hospital right away. I forgave my sister but I didn't want to but I did because I love her. I'm also thankful for my community. I'm getting a good education and that means I'll get a good job. I hope the best for my family for the future because we can never predict what will happen. I have the best life ever.
