

Estephania Garcia

November 15, 2011

I am thankful for....

I am thankful for everything that comes near me like my friends. People think that I'm different things but I am only one person who thinks about others and someone who appreciates others. I love who I am and I'm thankful for that.

I am thankful for my family because they try their best to keep me safe and happy. When my mom or dad take me to the stores and I see something that I want, they would buy it for me so that I could be happy. Sometimes when it's my birthday some of my family come without presents, but I still appreciate that they come. When I am bored my sister takes me to the park that I could have fun and so that I could be with my friends. My family is the only thing I need to be happy.

Another thing that I am thankful for is my friends because they will always keep me company. When I having trouble with a question one of my friends will come up and show me how to get the answer. Sometimes when I'm alone at tunch all my friends so that I could chat with them. Even when I am in stoge performing for the fitness they will cheer for me to show that they are there. My friends mean the world to me because they are the only ones that I am withe everyday and because they care about me.

W.

The last thing that I'm thankful for is the world because that's where my family and friends come from. I think the world is where I get my caring, helpful, smart's, and that's where I get thankful from. The world helps me make my life happy and fu. Sometimes when I'm trying to write from something I think of my world. I'm thankful for everything that's in the world.

Every thing that I am thankful for means so much to me because it's stuck in my heart and I can't get it out. All things I'm thankful for show that I'm the kind of person who thanks other for what they do for you. Thankful is my life and soul but my friends and family are another.