| ISSUE: CONSUMER PROTECTION, CRIMINAL

| COMMITTEE: CONSUMER PROTECTION

State Senator Lee M. Zeldin (R, C, I- Shirley), Chairman of the Senate Consumer Protection Committee, announced legislative action on a bill package designed to crack down on Organized Retail Crime (ORC). The legislation (S.6954-A, S.6955-A, S.6956, S.6957-A, S.6958-B and S.6959-A) passed in today's committee meeting and will now be reported to the Senate floor for final approval.

According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, organized retail theft is an industry that costs United States retailers about $30 billion per year. Supermarket losses account for $15 billion of that annual theft. Additionally state and local governments are losing out on tens of millions of dollars annually in lost sales tax and excise fee revenue.

"We must protect consumers and businesses impacted as victims of this expanding crime network. This legislative package finally puts teeth into the crackdown on organized retail crime," said Senator Zeldin.

Along with this action, Senator Zeldin announced that the Senate Consumer Protection Committee will be holding a hearing next week, June 5th, to raise awareness on this important issue and continue legislative momentum.

The legislative package consists of six bills:

S.6956:

Defines "Organized Retail Crime", adds to the General Business Law the crime of "theft of retail merchandise with an aggregated value of $1,000", and makes corresponding changes to the Penal Law to define such crime as “grand larceny in the fourth degree”.

S.6958-B:

Relates to jurisdiction and venue for a pattern of criminal offenses, granting jurisdiction to any county when at least one of the crimes constituting a pattern occurs within the county.

S.6959-A:

Relates to prohibitions and penalties against persons who lead an organized retail theft enterprise by organizing, supervising, financing or managing such criminal activity.

S.6954-A:

Prohibits criminal practices with an access device and classifies such crime as a class B misdemeanor. This crime would subject individuals to criminal liability for certain actions taken with a fraudulent or counterfeit credit card or other devices that grant the holder access to money, goods, or services.

S.6955-A:

Prohibits retail sales receipt fraud and Universal Product Code fraud and provides for criminal penalties for such crimes.

S.6957-A:

Adds a new section to the General Business Law and a subdivision to Penal Law to provide that use of an emergency exit to facilitate a theft from a mercantile establishment is classified as “grand larceny in the fourth degree”.

“Organized retail crime rings operate and threaten consumers in every part of this state,” said Retail Council of New York State President and CEO James R. Sherin. “Senator Zeldin recognized the danger immediately and responded with a package of bold and important bills that the retail industry wholeheartedly supports.”

“This is not garden-variety, personal use theft,” Mr. Sherin said. “It's highly organized, sophisticated, and dangerous criminal activity that demands a sophisticated and coordinated response. Coupled with the retail industry's partnership with law enforcement throughout the state, these bills will provide the tools necessary to protect consumers, preserve tens of millions in sales tax revenue now lost to ORC, and get the criminals off the street.”

Along with the Retail Council of New York State, other organizations invited to give testimony at next week’s hearing include:

- Price Chopper Grocery Stores
- Town of Colonie Police Department (Albany County)
- Food Industry Alliance of New York State
- Walgreens Pharmacy
- Walmart
- EBay

The legislative package (with the exception of S.6958-B) is being carried in the Assembly by Assemblyman Michael Cusick (D- Staten Island).

“Senator Zeldin and I have introduced this legislative package of bills to tackle the growing epidemic of organized retail theft by crime rings of professional shoplifters who target retail stores in a variety of ways. These thieves are costing the industry approximately $15-$30 billion annually, which in turn means higher prices for consumers. This legislative package is a step forward to thwart these groups and individuals who are blatantly engaged in illegally obtaining retail merchandise," said Assemblyman Cusick.
