New Website For Residents to Participate In New York State Government

In an effort to make New York State more transparent and allow you, the voters, to participate and share your ideas to help shape our future, there is a new website, www.citizenconnects.com, which was launched earlier this week.

The online town hall website will feature multiple interactive platforms for you to communicate and participate in the ongoing activities of the State's executive leadership.

CitizenConnects will also enable you to learn about and sign up to participate in upcoming state events, submit ideas and policy questions to Governor Cuomo, and sign up to receive e-mail, Facebook, and Twitter updates. I encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity and take an active role in our State's future.

Dictionaries at Longridge Elementary

Throughout this week, I continued to join the Rotary Clubs of Hilton and Greece in distributing new dictionaries to 3rd graders in each school district. While at Longridge Elementary School, the 3rd grade students received a special visit from new Greece Superintendent Barbara Deane-Williams. For more photos from the schools I have visited, follow me on Facebook.
