What are you most thankful for?

You can be thankful for many things in life. But how can you be thankful of things without being able to experience it? I am thankful for being able to experience the wonders of life. I'm thankful for family, friends, and objects, but I can't have these things without being alive. Without life, how will you know everything you are capable of doing? Sure many things can be replaced, but the only object that can't are people. Your life is precious, because you get one chance to live. Your life isn't only precious to you, but to your loved ones as well. Every human being on Earth, has a life. Mine is what I'm truly thankful for.
