FINALLY! Thanks To
Senator Felder's Legislation,
Bus Service Will Be Available
For All Students After
Regular School Hours!

Senator Simcha Felder,
Chair of the New York City Education Subcommittee,
Keeps Your Children Safe, While Saving You Money:

Starting Fall 2013, children in Kindergarten-sixth grade who are currently eligible for City transportation will be dropped off on their street corners instead of several blocks from their home, bringing you peace of mind.

The City of New York will now be responsible to pay for bus service for all students coming home after 4 P.M., easing the financial burden on hard-working parents.

"You shouldn't have to be concerned about how your children will get home from school or wonder how you'll pay for it. Now, you don't have to worry."
