HELP PROTECT OUR LOVED ONES, HELP REPEAL THE SEAL

Nothing is more important than the safety and well-being of our loved ones and children. But a new law contained in the state budget and recently signed by the Governor could place them and our community in harm's way. This dangerous new law allows thousands of convicted drug criminals to have their conviction records sealed, preventing potential employers-like day care centers, schools and nursing homes-from gaining full access to their criminal past. Under this law crimes like drug dealing, burglary, auto theft and grand larceny would be sealed forever.

To ensure our children and loved ones are protected from any harm, Senator Padavan is sponsoring legislation (S.5684) to repeal this extreme and dangerous new law. You can help protect our loved ones and help "repeal the seal" by emailing your support to padavan@senate.state.ny.us.

SENATE PASSES PADAVAN'S NYC SCHOOL GOVERNANCE BILL

Recently, the State Senate passed Senator Padavan's bill that extends and improves mayoral control of NYC schools. Since 2002, mayoral control has helped increase test scores across the board and fostered a rise in graduation rates. Schools are now safer and have been instilled with much-needed accountability. By any measure, mayoral control has worked and our children's future are brighter for it.

Following months of debate and discussion the concerns of all stakeholder-educators, teachers, parents, administrators and students-have been addressed in this bill. It contains provisions that improve and enhance parental involvement and transparency at all levels. The roles of the Board of Education, the Community District Education Council and school-based management teams are strengthened in the bill.

“ Throughout the debate over the reauthorization of mayoral control of schools, Senator Frank Padavan has demonstrated strong leadership and steady determination. He is a results-orientated legislator, and recognizes that New York City public schools have made tremendous gains over the past seven years. I thank him for sponsoring this important legislation, for helping assure its passage in the State Senate, and for his support of the extraordinary progress made by our principals, teachers and schoolchildren.”

—NYC Mayor Michael Bloomberg
