

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Rachel May

Senator Rachel May celebrates New York's Outstanding Cideries with Legislation and New York State of Cider Event in Albany

DAN MESSINEO May 20, 2024

| ISSUE: HARD CIDER

A New York Cidery Representative Pours Senator May a Cider at New York State of Cider Event

Senator Rachel May hosted the New York State of Cider, a fantastic Albany event inviting NY cideries for a fun night of tasting hard cider. It was an excellent opportunity for her colleagues to learn and discuss policies to help our cideries flourish.

New York is Apple Country; we're known for our exceptional ciders. Unlike other cider states and other types of beverages, our cideries cannot ship products directly to consumers. Senator May's bill (S1999) lifts that restriction, allowing them to expand their reach to new markets. That's a win for apple growers, cideries, and consumers.

Senator James Skoufis and Assembly Member Patricia Fahy cohosted the event with Senator May.

New York cideries in attendance:

Adirondack Winery

Angry Orchard

Bedrock Cidery

Hudson Valley Farmhouse Cidery

Indian Ladder Farms Cidery & Brewery

Little Apple Cidery

Nine Pin Cider

Pennings Farm Cidery

Rockland Cider Works

Seminary Hill Cidery & Orchard

Steampunk Cider

Treasury Cider at Fishkill Farms

Cornell University

RELATED LEGISLATION

2023-S1999

-
- Introduced
 - - In Committee Assembly
 - In Committee Senate
 - - On Floor Calendar Assembly
 - On Floor Calendar Senate
 - - Passed Assembly
 - Passed Senate
 - Delivered to Governor
 - Signed By Governor
 -

Relates to direct interstate and intrastate cider shipments

January 18, 2023

In Assembly Committee

Sponsored by Rachel May

Do you support this bill?