Today, State Senator Christopher J. Ryan (NY-50) honored more than 80 student artists representing 11 schools from across his district whose artwork was featured in his Albany and district offices during his first legislative session. Each student received a Certificate of Appreciation in recognition of their creativity, effort, and contribution to the 2025 Student Art Showcase.

“I’m deeply grateful to the students, educators, and families who helped make this program a success,” said Sen. Ryan. “The artwork brought color, energy, and inspiration into my offices, reminding all who walk through the doors of the talent and imagination that exists in every corner of our communities. I was moved by what I saw, and I encourage each of these young artists to keep creating and sharing their gifts.”

The Student Art Showcase is part of Sen. Ryan’s ongoing efforts to engage young people and uplift the students in Central New York. Plans for the 2026 program are already underway, with expanded participation and community involvement expected.
