

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Jose M. Serrano

Friends of SUNY Reception

JOSE M. SERRANO January 27, 2025

New York State is proud to host the State University of New York (SUNY) system, the most extensive public university system in the United States, dedicated to providing accessible and high-quality education to individuals throughout the state. On January 27, Senator Serrano had the honor of joining SUNY Chancellor John B. King, Jr., alongside esteemed colleagues from the government, at the prestigious 2025 Friends of SUNY Reception. This gathering served as a valuable platform for engaging in meaningful discussions about the vital role the SUNY system plays in delivering high-quality, public higher education to every New Yorker, ensuring that learning opportunities are accessible to all.
