Klein Hosts Flu Season Informational Sessions

JEFFREY D. KLEIN October 16, 2005

NY – With the arrival of flu season, State Senator Jeff Klein (D-Bronx/Westchester) is sponsoring an informational session for seniors on flu season. Senator Klein will host Jessica Morris, Director of Community Outreach for the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Morris will give seniors background information on the flu and how to avoid contracting it.

When it comes to the flu, we know that prevention is the best medicine. I am proud to be able to offer seniors critical information on influenza, and I am grateful to the New York City Department of Health for providing my constituents with such knowledgeable speakers.” Klein continued.

The first session was held Monday, October 17th at Aging in America-Holy Rosary Church in the Bronx. For more information about upcoming sessions or to schedule a speaker for your group, contact Senator Klein's office at (800) 718-2039.
