

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Owen H. Johnson

Senator Johnson Welcomes TII Network Technologies To Edgewood

OWEN H. JOHNSON September 19, 2007

State Senator Owen H. Johnson (4th Senate District, Babylon), Chairman of the Finance Committee, recently joined officials from TII Network Technologies and other elected officials in cutting the ribbon at the company's new 25,000 square-foot headquarters at the Heartland Center in Edgewood near the Deer Park Train Station. TII is a leader in developing and manufacturing advanced network technology solutions for the telecommunications industry. The new facility will house the Company's corporate headquarters, state-of-the-art research and development center and product demonstration rooms, as well as light quick turn manufacturing capabilities.

Pictured, from left to right, are: Islip Town Supervisor Philip Nolan; TII Network Founder and Chairman Emeritus Alfred J. Roach; Senator Owen H. Johnson; TII Network President Kenneth Paladino; TII Network Directors James R. Grover and Lawrence Fodrowski and TII Network Executive Vice President and Director Martin Pucher.