

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Senator Lavalley Advises Small Business Entrepreneurs of Helpful State Directory

KENNETH P. LAVALLE September 25, 2009

ISSUE: SMALL BUSINESS

Senator Kenneth P. LaValle would like to make small business entrepreneurs aware of information made available online by New York Empire State Development. The information found at <http://www.nylovesmallbiz.com/> can help individuals grow and promote their business ideas into productive, profitable companies.

“This online directory provides entrepreneurs with information on how to start, grow, and even help finance their business ideas,” said Senator LaValle. “The guide eliminates a lot of time-consuming research by offering small business entrepreneurs a host of valuable resources at the touch of a button. I believe this web site will be extremely beneficial to start up companies and, in the long run, help boost our local economies.”
