Martin J. Golden

April 15, 2010

Brooklyn- State Senator Marty Golden (R-C-I, 22nd District), today is announcing that he is seeking community input in an effort to repair local streets and roadways in the coming weeks following the cold days of winter.

Senator Marty Golden stated, "As the fresh air of Spring is upon us, as we see the flowers bloom, this is the time for us as a community to focus our attention on repairing the condition of the streets on which we live, work and attend school. By contacting my office and advising my staff and myself of areas that need attention, both those of street cave-ins and those requiring paving, we are making sure that all pedestrians and motorists travel in a safe environment."

Golden continued, "In the past, the residents of Brooklyn have been kind enough to contact my office and last winter, through the efforts of this project, over 200 potholes were repaired. Maintaining the integrity of our infrastructure is very important and I look forward to hearing from the community and working with the Department of Transportation to remedy the dangerous conditions that exist to ensure the safety of all residents.”

Senator Marty Golden is requesting that in addition to reporting the presence of potholes, residents should also bring the presence of street cave-ins and streets that require paving to his attention. To file a complaint, contact Senator Golden via e-mail at golden@senate.state.ny.us or by calling his District Office at (718) 238-6044. In the next couple of weeks, Senator Golden will compile a complete list of all locations and forward them to the Department of Transportation.
