McDonald to Hold Business Tour Across Saratoga County

Saratoga – Senator Roy McDonald will be joined by Saratoga Economic Development Corporation (SEDC) President Dennis Brobston to tour businesses across Saratoga County on Thursday, February 17 starting at 11 A.M.

“Locally owned businesses make up the backbone of our Upstate economy, and I look forward to this wonderful opportunity to meet with these business leaders and see their current progress,” said McDonald.

The day will begin in South Glens Falls, where Senator McDonald will present Ames Goldsmith with an excellence in small business award. Ames Goldsmith is a major supplier of silver-based products to printed electronics, EO catalyst manufacturing, photographic and health care industries around the world.

McDonald will then travel to Wilton where he will visit with D.A. Collins Construction Companies and Tech Valley Technologies; a Veteran owned small business that specializes in providing innovative training solutions for military and law enforcement agencies. Tech Valley Technologies will provide a demo of their services. (PHOTO OPPORTUNITIES)

The next stop will be QUAD Graphics in Saratoga Springs. QUAD is widely recognized as one of the largest print companies in the world, and recently announced the positive news that their contract with L.L. Bean has been extended.

To end the day, McDonald will visit with Apprenda in Halfmoon. This company provides software solutions to solve architectural, business and operational complexities.
