Senator Patrick M. Gallivan (R-59th District) is calling on Western New Yorkers to do their part to keep the blood supply strong this fall. Area residents will have an opportunity to donate blood next week at a Upstate New York Transplant Services (UNYTS) blood drive being sponsored by Senator Gallivan.

The blood drive runs from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m on Tuesday, September 13, taking place outside Senator Gallivan's District Office at 4729 Transit Rd, Suite 7 in Depew.

"As we have just seen with the destruction caused by Hurricane Irene across the Northeast, we live in a very unpredictable world and emergencies can occur at any time," Senator Gallivan said. "It's critical that we keep our blood supplies flush and are always prepared in times of need. Your blood donation will be critically important in regional and nationwide efforts to keep the supply strong."

Upstate New York Transplant Services is a Community Blood Bank who's supply stays local and saves local lives. UNYTS is the supplier to Kaleida, ECMC and all of Niagara and Wyoming Counties hospitals.

"When you donate through UNYTS, you're ensuring that your friends, family and neighbors have blood available when they need it. Just one pint can help save up to three local lives," said UNYTS CEO and President Mark Simon.

To schedule an appointment to donate blood, please contact UNYTS at 716-512-7940, or you can sign up online at www.unyts.org. For more information, you can also contact Senator Gallivan's office at 716-656-8544.
