

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Joseph E. Robach

Community Connection for Week Ending January 22nd, 2012

JOSEPH E. ROBACH January 20, 2012

The specifics of this budget will have people here at home breathing a collective sigh of relief. For the second year in a row we have a budget that raises no new taxes, no new fees, no unfunded mandates.

Much question was raised about $1 billion going to Buffalo, but I am glad to see that money will be private money and not a public investment.

I will continue to work throughout the budget approval process to ensure a fair budget for Rochester, and that it is done in a timely fashion. For updates throughout the budget approval process, visit my website.

Government
Day at School of the Arts
Recently, I had

Currier Road Armory.

The Town of Greece is holding a Family Game Night at the Greece Community and Senior Center from 6:00 until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Hedonist Chocolates will celebrate their grand opening on Thursday at 4:00 p.m. They are located at 674 South Avenue.

Brighton Securities presents an information session for Kodak retires from 5:00 until 6:00 p.m. at the Greece Community and Senior Center on Friday, January 27th. Pre-registration IS REQUIRED.

In this week's issue, a review of the Governor's 2012-2013 Executive Budget Address and how to have your voice heard, visiting with seniors at School of the Arts, and some of the events taking place around the district in the week ahead.