Senator Serrano Celebrates River Park Towers Family Day

JOSÉ M. SERRANO July 13, 2012

Senator Serrano joined the River Park Towers community and other elected officials to celebrate River Park Towers Family Day. The yearly celebration took place in Roberto Clemente State Park and served as an opportunity for the River Park Towers community to come together with family and friends and enjoy time outdoors. The event featured tabling by numerous organizations offering resources to the community, as well as activities, games, and entertainment.

“This yearly tradition is a great opportunity to meet with my constituents as we all enjoy our local State Park,” said Senator Serrano. “This event offers a magnificent chance for the community to speak to local organizations and receive important information on housing, healthcare, education, and various other issues. I hope this wonderful tradition continues for many years to come.”
