The US Chamber of Commerce Foundation's Business Civic Leadership Center (BCLC) and National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (National VOAD) have come together to create a business-nonprofit portal for Hurricane Sandy recovery. As one of the key organizations engaged in Sandy recovery, they invite you to participate in posting your organization's needs in the portal.

The portal is designed for nonprofits to display their ongoing recovery needs so that businesses, who are interested in helping, can better understand where opportunities are available from a donation and volunteer perspective. Businesses typically help in three ways (cash donations, in-kind donations, and volunteering).
