Lever Machines Will Allow for Accurate and Timely Results for Primary and Run-off Elections in New York City

State Senators Simcha Felder (D-Brooklyn), along with his NYC delegation colleagues, Martin J. Golden, Andrew Lanza, and Diane Savino, are calling for the passage of bill number S4088, which allows for the use of lever machines in New York City municipal elections.

The New York City Board of Elections has warned that due to the lengthy processing of electronic vote total, they will be unable to hold a run-off election with the electronic machines. The senators contend that the lever machines – which were discontinued in 2010 and replaced with electronic voting scanners – are the most logical choice to ensure timely results for the upcoming municipal elections.

“These new-fangled voting machines are a disaster,” said Senator Simcha Felder. “Seniors can’t see the ballot text; voters are confused about how to fill out the ballot; and Election Day in New York City has become synonymous with chaos and dysfunction.”

“The last election was held 123 days ago, and the New York City Board of Elections is still finding ballots to be counted,” stated Senator Golden. “It’s evident that the electronic machines cannot handle the two week turn around required for a run-off election, which is a likely presumption as the field of candidates grows. This is a simple solution which doesn't involve re-inventing the wheel. We have the lever machines. They fix this problem. We should use them."

"The BOE has had problems executing elections of all sizes in the last year because of all the time it takes to tally votes, determine top candidates, print ballots and test the new machines," said Senator Andrew J. Lanza (R,I,C-Staten Island). "Lever machines, despite their aged technology, are actually more transparent and reliable than electronic voting systems."

1. "This would allow the BOE to use a trusted method that will ensure all votes are counted in timely manner."

Senator Felder added, "These machines have rendered us a national laughingstock and given fodder to late-night comedians. This is an example where technology has come back to bite us. It's time to bring back the old machines and ensure that all New Yorkers can properly exercise their right to easily cast a ballot for the candidate of their choosing."
