New this year, the Camp will offer early drop off and late pick up options for those parents that need to be at work by 9am.

The cost of attending one three week session is $100 per child if the child qualifies for free/reduced school lunch or $225 per child for all other children.

Space is limited. Registrations are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis by age and income. For more information, please contact the Parkside Community Association office at 838-1240 or at www.parksidebuffalo.org/summerarts.

For over thirty years now the Parkside Summer Arts Camp has provided quality arts education programming for children aged 5-11 years old during their summer vacations. This year the theme is “The Camp Community.” Under new direction from a team of educators who believe in the value of real-world experience, the Parkside Summer Arts Camp will continue the long tradition of providing quality arts education with some exciting new opportunities. Under this year’s theme, campers will take part in enrichment activities that connect with the vibrant resources available in the Parkside Neighborhood. Campers will experience their surrounding community through activities that stretch their creative minds and feed their academic growth.
