Senator Gianaris To Kick Off Districtwide Mobile Office Series

MICHAEL GIANARIS August 19, 2013

(Queens, NY) Senator Michael Gianaris announced that he will launch a series of mobile offices this week covering every corner of his district from Woodside to Woodhaven and also including the neighborhoods of Long Island City, Sunnyside and Ridgewood. Recognizing that each neighborhood he represents has unique issues and concerns, Senator Gianaris is eager to hear from Queens residents on the issues that matter most to their community. The mobile offices will take place over the next few weeks.

“I am proud to represent such a diverse array of Queens neighborhoods,” said Senator Gianaris. “These mobile offices will be a great opportunity for people from Long Island City, Sunnyside, Woodside, Ridgewood and Woodhaven to communicate their concerns to me so we can work together to improve our community. I look forward to hearing firsthand about the issues that matter most in all areas of my district.”

Each mobile office will be at a convenient location and give residents of these Queens neighborhoods a few hours to share their concerns, questions or ideas with Senator Gianaris and his staff.
