

NEW YORK STATE SENATOR

Andrew J. Lanza

TOY SAFETY - Latest Information on Recalls and Access to Toy Safety Websites Across the Country

ANDREW J LANZA December 9, 2013

This section includes information from state and federal agencies and independent organizations devoted to toy safety.

Toy Safety Information from the United States Consumer Protection Safety Commission

For a full up to date list of all recalls please visit

THE UNITED STATES CONSUMER SAFETY COMMISSION RECALL WEBSITE

Currently, there are over 4,000 recalls and this website lists them in a number of categories:

*Recent recalls

*By Month and Year

*By product company and description

*By product category, including Child products, Toys, Household products, Outdoor products, Sports and Recreation products and Specialty products

PLEASE CLICK HERE TO REPORT AN UNSAFE TOY TO THE UNITED STATES CONSUMER SAFETY

COMMISSION - If you are aware of a toy that may be unsafe, please visit the USCSC to report the toy so that other parents are aware of any unknown dangers

THE FOLLOWING SITES MAY ALSO BE OF USE:

WWW.RECALLS.GOV for additional information on other recalls - This website is maintained by the United States Consumer Safety Commission

The Toy Industry Association

Consumer Reports

Healthy Toys.org

Please use the links below to get more information on this issue:

United States Consumer Product Safety Commission Email List

New York State Division of Consumer Safety Shopping for Toys: A Game Plan to Keep Your Child Safe

New York State Division of Consumer Safety Toy Safety Inventory Checklist

Parents can also call the New York State Division of Consumer Safety's hotline at 1-800-697-1220 for more information on protecting children