Senator Jack M. Martins (R-Mineola), County Executive Ed Mangano, and Town of North Hempstead Supervisor Judi Bosworth recently partnered together to provide free senior ID cards to North Hempstead residents.

Senator Martins and County Executive Mangano worked with Supervisor Bosworth to bring their free senior ID card program to the Town's "Funday Monday" Health Fair at North Hempstead Town Beach. Seniors were able to receive a free ID card which included their name, photo, and important contact information which could be helpful to first responders in the event of an emergency.
