Thank You

As your New York State Senator, it has been my greatest honor to represent the people of the 54th District. It was both gratifying and humbling to receive such overwhelming support from the people I serve and I thank you for again putting your faith and trust in me.

There are very serious challenges that lie ahead. Reviving New York State's economy and enhancing job growth is of the utmost importance to me. I've fought hard, and thanks to your support, I will continue to fight to change the direction of New York State and restore our economy by cutting wasteful spending, reducing taxes and creating jobs.

The time is right. The time is now. We must make New York competitive again and provide career opportunities for our young people so that they don't have to leave New York and their families to find jobs in other states.

As always, the concerns and interests of my constituents are of the utmost importance to me. If I can be of assistance to you or your family, please call me at 1-888-568-9816 (toll free) or email me at nozzolio@senate.state.ny.us. You also can also follow me on Facebook.
