Senator David Carlucci, in partnership with Rockland Community College and the Workforce Investment Board of Rockland, is hosting Rockland Community College's 17th Annual Job Fair, on Thursday, April 2, 2015 in the Eugene Levy Field House from 11 a.m. -3 p.m.

The Fair is open to students, alumni of Rockland Community College, and the public.

Hosting a job fair is one of the surest ways we can immediately jumpstart job creation and expand our local economy right here in Rockland County," said Senator Carlucci. "Too many good people looking for employment right now just need to get their foot in the door. This event will provide a real opportunity for Rockland residents to meet business owners face to face, and find meaningful employment opportunities.”

“We are delighted that Senator Carlucci is partnering with Rockland Community and the Workforce Investment Board of Rockland to host the College’s 17th annual JobFair,” said Irene Deutsch, Director, Career Services, Rockland Community College. “Last year, over 90 companies attended the fair to recruit employees, and we encourage all job seekers to take advantage of this unique opportunity to meet with a wide array of businesses under one roof.”
